

As the account manager working with the customer, we were searching for a fleet management system. Working with Chris from Collective Intelligence Group has been by far an experience when it comes to product presentation. The overall customer approach to understand the need for the system by far beats the competition. The ease of how to use the dashboard to manage your fleet takes out the guess work and added administrative work for your company.

-Marcus Whobrey, Sales Consultant – Major Accounts

ProLift Toyota Material Handling